

Call for human rights papers

No word limit . . .

Indiana International Human Rights Law Bulletin Program in International Human Rights Law Indiana University School of Law—Indianapolis

The Program in International Human Rights Law will soon publish the Indiana International Human Rights Law Bulletin in e-format. Founded by Professor George E. Edwards in 1997, the bulletin will come out twice every semester and once during summer, starting Spring 2009.

We welcome scholarly and insightful contributions from our law faculty, staff, students, alumni, human rights defenders, and stakeholders.

Jonna MacDougall and Liz Allington initiated efforts to regularize the publication and dissemination of our e-newsletter. On behalf of our law school, thank you so much, Jonna and Liz! We look forward to receiving contributions from everyone. Thank you.

Issues:

- Environmental justice
- Immigration
- Health
- Racial justice
- Copyright
- Prisoners
- Armed conflict
- Gender equality
- Indigenous people's rights
- Children's rights
- Housing
- Access to justice
- Access to food
- Discrimination
- Human rights initiatives, projects, actions, etc.

Contributions dealing with any human rights issues, challenges, experiences, and concerns in any part of the world are welcome.

Send your article, brief bio, and photo anytime to:

Perfecto "Boyet" Caparas
Editor

Email: pcaparas@iupui.edu and pcaparas@alumni.iu.edu
Human Rights Center
Room 235-A, Law Library

Spring 2009:
Two issues, including
inaugural e-issue

Summer 2009:
One issue

Fall 2009:
Two issues

Program in International Human Rights Law

Indiana University
School of Law
Indianapolis

Phone: (317) 278-3857
Fax: (317) 278-3685

Indiana International Human Rights Law Bulletin